Prioitize Your Day

Not all tasks are created equal and not taking time to evaluate their prioity is going to be detrimental to your productivity because without rankings low priority items can masquarade as high priority an thus throw off your business.

Social Media/Marketing Tasks	Communications

For long term success you should do something everyday that lets you work toward your business goals. It's worth the time it takes, I promise. For example if you only have a couple of minutes to spare pick one client you havne't reached out to in a while and send them a quick email ask how it is going and if there is anything you can help them with.
